

ARCHITECTURAL DIGEST

With gorgeous marble slabs, striking crystal accents and light fixtures, and a soft pink-and-gray color palette, The Class by Taryn Toomey's first-ever Tribeca studio is more like a boutique hotel than a fitness studio thanks to architect Michael Constantin. Founder and instructor Taryn Toomey (who teaches the likes of Jennifer Aniston and Naomi Watts) collaborated with interior designer Elizabeth Kohn of Elizabeth Kohn Design and interior designer and crystal healer Rashia Bell to create features like the tourmaline-and-hematite-lined floors (which clear the energy and renew balance). Healing clear-quartz light fixtures by Kelly Wearstler and metal lighting by Christopher Boots sit alongside earthy art and photography curated by Trove Art. taryntoomey.com
